Biography

Darren Heimbecker is the owner and designer of Whistling Gardens.

Darren and Wanda purchased a 56 acre farm in Wilsonville and Darren began landscaping a cornfield into what is now one of the few privately operated botanical gardens in the country. The collections contain some 4,500 different plants including approximately 2,000 different cultivars of conifers and now over 1,200 varieties of peonies.

Darren has a degree in Outdoor Education and often gives guided tours at the gardens. In the off season he is actively building and working in the gardens as well in his studio composing new music for the fountain program at the gardens.
