Talk Title: The Odd and Eccentric Truth About Gardeners

Brief Description: My talk is a 45-minute presentation, a light and humourous look at gardening and gardeners, anchored in my own odd experiences in the garden. As a travel and garden writer, I have visited gardens and gardeners all over the world, and I bring that experience and those stories to my talks, as well. I actually can tailor my presentation, with a wide variety of material available, so I often am asked back to speak to groups a second time or more.

Brief Biography

Paul Knowles is an author and speaker. He has written 16 books, including humorous garden books, history books, and a murder mystery. He has also written the lyrics for musical works, including "The River Rolls", which has been featured on CBC Radio, and "Canadian Waters Suite", premiered by the London Pro Musica Choir. He has written gardening, humour, travel and feature articles for publications including Forever Young, Exchange Magazine, Southbound, The United Church Observer, Joyoftravel.ca, The Toronto Sun, and many other periodicals. His work has been published in Canadian Gardening, The Reader's Digest, and Maclean's. His work has won national and international awards.

Paul has received the Governor General's Medal, the Queen's Diamond Jubilee Medal, and has been named Wilmot Township's Cultural Citizen of the Year. Paul is co-chair of the Travel Media Association of Canada, Ontario Chapter.

Paul's hobbies include travel, gardening, choral singing, cooking, reading, wine tasting, and avoiding power tools.
